

498 Walsh Road, Atherton CA 94027
materechm@gmail.com
+1 (415) 549-6801

Maria Teresa Chavez

Goal

- Curing brain disorders and aging. Right now focused specifically on ALS.

Education

- Acton Academy Guatemala (2012-2013)
- Universidad Francisco Marroquin (2012-2013)
- Awesome Math (summer of 2012)

Experience

- Volunteer at the Baranzini Lab, University of California San Francisco (2013-present)
- Member of the Neurosciences Journal Club, Stanford University (2013-present)
- Member of the ALS Consortium For Epidemiological Studies, Stanford University (2013 – present)
- Representative, The Alternative Education Resource Organization (2013)
- Member of the Guatemala IMO team, Universidad del Valle (2012-2013)
- TEDMED front-line scholar (April 2013)
- Bootcamper, Heuristica UFM (2013)

Relevant Coursework

- Genetics and Evolution, Duke University (online)
- Calculus I, Ohio State University (online)
- Cryptography I, Stanford University (online)
- Structure of Macromolecules, UCSF (ongoing)
- Developmental and Stem Cell Biology, UCSF (ongoing)
- Algebra 1.5 (AwesomeMath)
- Number Theory I taught by Titu Andreescu (AwesomeMath)